Postgraduate Studies in Athens

Applications for Postgraduate Studies in Law and Governance in Athens are open for students from around the world at the International European Law and Governance School. Applications are open for the next session. The School programs are shaped by internationally recognized academic personalities and are supported by a vast network of more than 30 universities and institutions located in more than 20 countries. This creates for students significant opportunities of further development. The ELGS offers a supranational approach to law and governance studies in the EU, and provides students with a great degree of flexibility and mobility.

Rt. 76 of Law 4310/2014 par. 8 to art. 4 of Law 3328/2005 states that higher education degrees issued by International Organizations to which the Greek Republic is a party are equivalent to the degrees delivered by the Greek public higher education institutions.

The degree programs offered by the ELGS are acknowledged by the network of Universities that have signed agreements with the ELGS
