2nd SIMUN (Sounion Invitational MUN) by the Academy for Transparency & Human Rights

The Academy for Transparency & Human Rights has proudly organized the 2nd SIMUN (Sounion Invitational Model UN) under the guidance of Prof. Omar Hernandez as part of the training program on “International Law & Diplomacy”, addressed to students of the Russian Presidential Academy of National Economy and Public Administration (RANEPA).

The topic of this year’s SIMUN was on “Cybercrime” and it simulated a Meeting of the Commission on Crime Prevention and Criminal Justice (CCPCJ) of the United Nations, followed the UN4MUN methodology and was based on the guide prepared by the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime (UNODC) within the framework of the E4J initiative.

The Academy for Transparency & Human Rights as the organizer of one of the first Simulations of the CCPCJ following similar Rules for Procedure as the ones drafted by the UN, wishes to express its gratitude to the UNODC for its kind support on the project.
