Official Participation in the Campaign of the European Agency for Safety and Health at Work (EU-OSHA)

The European Institute of Management and Governance of the EPLO has been officially accepted as a partner in the campaign of the European Agency for Safety and Health at Work (EU-OSHA). This Agency is committed to making Europe a safer, healthier and more productive place to work. It promotes a culture of risk prevention with the aim to improve working conditions in Europe. For the years 2013-2015 a pan-European campaign about the stress in workplace has been initiated. The European Institute of Management and Governance of the EPLO, participates in the above campaign, organizing in collaboration with various bodies conferences and educational programs on the issue of Stress Management in the Public Sector.
